What you do in the game

Build and prepare your player
Allocate attribute points, choose timing difficulty and complete the coach's exercises. Review the assessment before your next game.

Make match decisions
Read offensive and defensive situations in the Match Center. Selected actions use timing controls; a confirmed release does not guarantee a basket.

Follow the game and your growth
Fast Sim presents scores, statistics and Hot and Cold players. After the game, compare your performance, season averages and attribute changes.

Live with the team
Propose a starting five to your coach, who decides whether to approve it. Read messages, choose weekly commitments and respond in conversations and interviews.

Notes for editors

Hoop Dynasty uses fictional teams, leagues, players, awards and identities. It is not affiliated with real leagues, teams or athletes.

Generative AI tools support the production of selected pre-rendered visual assets, including promotional artwork and certain in-game portraits or illustrations. The assets are created in advance, selected, reviewed, edited where needed and shipped as static files. Hoop Dynasty does not generate AI content during gameplay and does not run a local or remote generative model while the player is playing.
